

River Thames – river restriction

Teddington Reach Raven's Ait to Hogsmill River Saturday 13 and Sunday 14 July 2019 - 8:30am to 7pm

Kingston Amateur Regatta

Directions for navigation and general information during this event:

- The navigation channel shall be established on the Surrey, left hand side of the river.
- Racing boats will be using a buoyed channel on the Hampton Court, Middlesex, right hand side of the river between Raven's Ait and the mouth of the Hogsmill River.
- Regatta boards will mark the upstream and downstream extent of the course.
- Masters of all boats to maintain a safe speed and lookout between Raven's Ait and Kingston Railway Bridge.
- Rowing boats will be spinning between Kingston Road Bridge and Kingston Railway Bridge. All boats must maintain a good lookout and dead slow speed between the two bridges.
- Rowing boats will be navigating upstream through the Middlesex arch and downstream through the centre arch of Kingston Road Bridge. Therefore it is requested that if possible other river traffic uses the Surrey arches of Kingston Road Bridge. The centre arch may be used by normal river traffic if it is required for depth and air draft reasons.
- No unauthorised mooring in the regatta channel on the Hampton Court, right hand side of the river.
- All boats must be navigated in accordance with any instructions given from Environment Agency control points or patrol launches.
- Bathing is not allowed in the river on the course during the hours of racing
- Those in charge of boats should be aware that they are responsible for avoiding collision and should use all available means appropriate to the circumstances and conditions to decide if there is a risk of immediate danger and avoid it.
- Please be aware that the towpath from Raven's Ait to the mouth of the Hogsmill River will be very busy on the above dates. Small delays may occur whilst racing boats are carried to and from the river.

N.B. All directions as to river left and river right are given looking upstream.
